By BOB SKEELS

Saline county can look forward to increased oil activity, throughout the county, but particularly in the northeast quarter around Eldorado and north of Harrisburg. The Carter Oil company has one of the biggest wells to date in the Eldorado pool, and the first big producer in the Tar Springs sand. Today they are cleaning out and testing the Aux Vases sand 2914-26 after fracturing on their No. 1 V. Turner, SW SE SW 8-38-7e. It flowed 307 barrels of clean oil in six hours after treatment. The Tar Springs sand 2214-24 has alloy set opposite it and not tested yet. On a drill stem test, it gassed in 18 minutes and recovered 2020 feet of clean oil, 120 feet of mud cut oil and 60 feet of oil cut mud when the tool was pulled. A drill stem test opposite the Aux Vases sand flowed clean oil in 1 hour and 40 minutes.

Economists See Levelling Off In Unemployment

WASHINGTON — Some government economists predicted today that unemployment will start levelling off next month and may start dropping in March.

Their prediction was backed up to some extent by the downward trend in the number of persons applying for unemployment compensation. Labor Department figures showed that the number of new applications fell to about 411,000 last week, some 34,000 less than the previous week.

The drop was credited to a slackening in layoffs resulting from inventory taking and post-Christmas cutbacks and to a tapering off of seasonal layoffs in a few industries.

But the economists were leery about predicting the outlook in factory unemployment. They said improvement in this field would probably lag and the turning point might not be reached until next summer or fall.

There was no decline last week in the number of new unemployment claims because of factory layoffs resulting from slow sales.

The Labor Department reported new unemployment in the textile, apparel, lumbering, construction electrical equipment and mining industries.

The number of all idle workers claiming unemployment compensation increased by about 88,000 to about 2,039,000 in the week ended Jan. 16.

Mrs. Mary Crane Of Ridgway Dies

The funeral for Mrs. Mary Crane, 76, well-known resident of Ridgway who died Thursday afternoon at the Ferrell hospital, will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Ridgway Baptist church. Rev. Charles E. Holland, assisted by Rev. L. C. Irby and Rev. D. Lemons, will conduct the service. Burial will be in the Maple Hill cemetery at Fairfield.

Council Seeks To Keep Lake Proposal Alive

City Attorney To Confer with St. Louis Lawyers

The council of the City of Harrisburg, fighting to keep the lake proposition alive, last night voted that City Attorney Scieral Thompson should go with Howard Percy of St. Louis to St. Louis Monday to confer with attorneys for the Barcus-Kindred Co. Percy represents Barcus-Kindred company in southern Illinois.

Barcus-Kindred is the company with which the city has the agreement to buy the city's Lake Harrisburg and water improvement bonds, and the company's legal adviser, Chapman and Cutler, Chicago, recently advised that Harrisburg cannot call a special election to pass on the bond issue, declaring a section of the statute says that when more than 10 per cent and less than 25 per cent of the voters petition for a referendum, the election cannot take place until the next regular city election, which would be up in 1955.

Petitions carrying 652 names, which is some more than 10 per cent of the number who voted in the last quadrennial election, were submitted to the council a couple of weeks ago and the city decided to call a special election on the bond issue Feb. 16.

However, the Chapman and Cutler opinion has stalled this action. But City Attorney Thompson today said his position is that the city can call a special election, adding that "in my opinion the petition was not actually filed and its contents less than the required number of names."

He explained his position as follows: He said there are four acts on referendums, and they are:

1. One pertaining to franchises or licenses for public utilities, in which a petition must be filed in 30 days bearing signatures of 10 per cent of the voters.
2. One for waterworks bonds, which must be filed in 21 days, bearing signatures of 20 per cent of the voters.
3. One for combined water and sewer purchase or extension, in which 15 per cent of the voters are needed and this must be filed in 21 days.
4. The one that Chapman and Cutler referred to, declaring the referendum must be held at a regular election.

"This last provision, passed in 1953 by the Illinois legislature, is in my opinion a provision to permit cities to have a chance to postpone a vote until the next quadrennial election," he stated. "This last provision says it should be used 'unless provided otherwise by law' and I believe the first three acts take care of the 'unless provided otherwise by law'."

He said it is his position that the local project doesn't come under the 1953 statute but can come under either the waterworks or the combined waterworks and sewer provision, and that in either instance the city can call a special election even though the petition is not actually filed and contains less than the required number of names.

S. S. Stalions, 79, Dies at His Home In Carrier Mills

Samuel S. Stalions, 79, died Friday at 5:15 p. m. at his home on East Furlong street in Carrier Mills. He had moved from Delwood in Pope county to Carrier Mills in 1924.

He is survived by his wife, Louella, and the following children: Bertis Stalions, Newnan, Ga.; Willie Stalions, Elgin, Ill.; Reba Laye, Aurora, Ill.; Mrs. Maude Waterbury, Batavia, Ill.; Mrs. Maude Isaac, Carrier Mills, Ill.; Mrs. Sylvia Morris, Ledford, Ill.; Mrs. Golda, Erwin, Ill.; and Coy Stalions, both of Carrier Mills. He is survived by several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

J. R. Jenkins, 75, Of Shawneetown Dies

James R. Jenkins, 75, resident of Old Shawneetown, died Friday noon at the Ferrell hospital in Eldorado. The funeral will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Wright funeral home in New Shawneetown. Burial will be in the Westwood cemetery.

Eddyville Man Dies

Milas Neler, life-long resident of Eddyville, died Friday at 9:45 a. m. His body is at the Rottman funeral chapel in Golconda.

The funeral will be at the Bolden church near Eddyville at a time to be announced later. Rev. John Yuhas of Harrisburg will conduct the service, and burial will be in the church cemetery.

UN Is Not Nest of Communist Spies, Lodge Says; Lists Accomplishments

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said today the U. N. "is not a nest of Communist spies, because there is nothing to spy on in the United Nations."

"No United States citizen employed by the United Nations has ever been prosecuted for espionage," he said. United States citizens employed by the U. N. "will have been screened within a few months in accordance with a Civil Service Commission-FEB plan."

Speaking before the Virginia General Assembly, Lodge asked legislators attending a biennial commemorative session at the colonial capitol to "scrutinize" the purposes of the U. N., compare its achievements and shortcomings, and ask themselves if it "is good for America."

He listed as outstanding accomplishments of the United Nations: The Prevention of Communist encroachments in Greece in 1947; a halting of the war between Pakistan and India over Kashmir; the end to a threat of war in Iran in 1946, which he said was brought on by the pressure of Russian troops; and the fight against aggression in Korea.

On the negative side, Lodge pointed to the U. N.'s failure to prevent a Communist victory in China and Communist "successes" in other countries. He said the U. N. actually functions helpfully though imperfectly "in spite of the fact that the Communist bloc is in a cold war with the rest of the world."

Lodge said the U. N. "in blunt terms," is an international organization formed for the purpose of saving "succeeding generations from the scourge of war to deter war and should it occur, repel it."

He said the United States, through the U. N., can see what the Communists are doing in the war of ideas—and sometimes in other ways. "Without it we could not see nearly as much."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov agreed to open the atomic pool talks at the end of a session of the Big Four foreign ministers which opened shortly after 3 p. m. with German unification the topic for discussion.

There was hope in the American delegation that the Dulles-Molotov talks would continue throughout the Berlin conference, and that the groundwork might be laid for formal negotiations on Mr. Eisenhower's plan to turn atomic energy to peaceful purposes by formation of an international pool.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden opened the German discussions today in the Big Four meeting—the sixth of the conference with Molotov, Dulles and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault following.

The three Western foreign ministers had agreed before the meeting to block a Russian move to bring an East German Communist delegation into the conference.

Molotov had proposed that both East and West German delegates be brought in.

The West had an answer for Molotov. West Germany did not ask to be heard and the East German government is not recognized.

James Roosevelt To Continue in Congress Race

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—James Roosevelt, accused by his wife of adultery with a dozen women, says the charges will not force him from the race for congressman from California's 26th District.

The eldest son of the late president addressed members of the 20th Congressional District Democratic Council at a party Friday night in honor of his father.

"It is my present plan to go on about my affairs as usual and meet all my commitments and see what happens," he said. Roosevelt attended the gathering to introduce Tom Mechlun, Nevada newspaperman and speaker of the evening.

Roosevelt, who recently announced his candidacy for the seat held by Sam Yorty (D-Calif.), now a senatorial candidate, and his wife, Romelle Schneider Roosevelt have sued each other for separate maintenance.

Mrs. Roosevelt's action Friday contained the charges of adultery. Roosevelt had filed for separate maintenance Jan. 18, charging cruelty.

He said his wife's action was "punitive" and hinted that she might face "similar counter charges."

Mrs. Roosevelt, 38, who nursed Roosevelt after a major operation at the Mayo Clinic in 1938, said her action was filed to force him to live up to an alleged written agreement to give her a share of community property, 50 per cent of his own property and half of his net income after taxes.

R. W. Jones, Veteran Newspaperman, Dies at Johnston City

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (UP)—Richard W. Jones, a veteran Southern Illinois weekly newspaperman, died early today in a nursing home here after an illness of nine months.

Jones, 87, founded the Johnston City Progress in 1897 and went into semi-retirement about two years ago after serving as editor and publisher for 55 years.

Before founding his paper, Jones taught school in Williamson county for 14 years and was a school principal here for one year.

Jones was a former chaplain of the Illinois Press Assn.

Bricker Measure May Be Returned To Committee

By United Press

Senate Republican leaders today faced a possible attempt to send the Bricker Treaty amendment back to committee unless they come up soon with a bi-partisan compromise proposal.

Several key senators said privately that unless some agreement is reached soon a move may develop to send Sen. John W. Bricker's controversial proposal to limit the President's treaty-making powers back to the Judiciary committee.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said earlier he was opposed to such a move and wants the issue settled on the Senate floor.

Knowland and top GOP and Democratic leaders continued their search for a compromise measure that would draw enough support from both parties to defeat Bricker's amendment.

Knowland had hoped to come up with an acceptable formula by Friday. When that failed, he said he hoped to have a proposal ready for introduction when the Senate resumes its "great debate" Monday.

Bricker, whose proposal is stoutly opposed by President Eisenhower, said he is still willing to "consider" any proposal. But he had indicated earlier there was little likelihood of a compromise between his and Mr. Eisenhower's position.

Other congressional news: Files: The Senate Internal Security subcommittee prepared to launch a full-scale investigation to find out who allegedly ordered the destruction of military files on Communism. Chairman Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) said public hearings would be held soon.

Three Sisters, Blonde, Brunette and Redhead to Wed in Triple Ceremony

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UP)—Three sisters—a blonde, a brunette and a redhead—step to the altar of a strange church today to say "I do" in a triple wedding that grew too big for their hometown parish.

The girls, Betty Jane, Doris, and Florence Black, take their vows at 3 p. m. in spacious St. Mark's Lutheran Church here before 400 guests and a press corps including television and newspaper cameramen.

Then they will leave on separate honeymoons to three separate sections of the country.

The Black girls drove to St. Mark's Church in three separate cars for the event that suddenly became "Union County's social event of the year." The reception is to be held at Elizabeth's Masonic Temple, the biggest hall they could find for an expected overflow crowd.

Livermore Lab Is Operated by U. of California

Official Disclosure Is Made in AEC Report to Congress

WASHINGTON (UP)—Existence of a super secret H-bomb laboratory at Livermore, Calif., was officially disclosed today for the first time.

The disclosure was made by the Atomic Energy Commission in its 15th semiannual report to Congress. The lab, run for the AEC by the University of California, has been operating a year and a half—since June, 1952. Some 1,500 scientists and technicians work there.

But not until today had the AEC ever admitted the lab existed. Not even in today's report did the commission forthrightly tag Livermore as an H-bomb laboratory. It used the all-inclusive word "weapons" instead.

It was at Livermore, however, that Dr. Edward Teller, brilliant atomic scientist of World War II fame, completed the work which was climaxed in November, 1952, with the world's first giant explosion of a hydrogen "device."

Set Up Special Lab

It also was at Livermore that Teller and his associates thought out the new H-bomb designs which a task force is now preparing to test this spring at the AEC's Eniwetok-Bikini proving ground in the Pacific.

Livermore was set up, on the recommendation of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, as a special lab to supplement nuclear weapons work formerly performed exclusively at the AEC's Los Alamos and Sandia laboratories in New Mexico. Although the nature of Teller's work and where he did it were known in some non-official quarters before today, the AEC had never mentioned them.

Elsewhere in its semiannual report, the commission:

1. Reported that atomic production is up and costs down all along the line from raw materials to finished weapons. "New and improved" weapons designs, "necessitate new tests in the Pacific. Recent technical developments" made it possible to cancel a weapons-parts plant on the Spoon River in Illinois at a saving of $30,000,000.
2. Said the nation's "first full-scale industrial nuclear power plant" will be a "major advance toward realization" of atomic power for cities and machines on its completion in three or four years. This plant, to generate at least 60,000 kilowatts of electricity, will be built by the Westinghouse Electric Co. "Perhaps a several" such plants must be built and operated before it can be determined whether atomic power can compete economically with coal, oil, and gas. Meanwhile, eight industrial teams are studying private nuclear power possibilities.
3. Reported "important advances" in cancer study and intensified search for "new and improved methods of applying nuclear radiation in the treatment of human disease." New progress has been made in locating brain tumors with radioactive materials. Additional "radioisotopes" have been developed as substitutes for radium in cancer treatment.

W. T. 'Wee' Barrett In Democratic Race for Sheriff

William T. "Wee" Barrett of Eldorado is running in the April primary for the Democratic nomination for sheriff.

William, familiarly called "Wee" by his many friends, is a former member of the Eldorado City Council, having been elected when only 23 years of age. He was elected to the County Board of Supervisors in 1947 from East Eldorado township. Last August he resigned as Service Officer for the Illinois Veterans Commission to go in business for himself.

During his youth, "Wee" was the lightweight Golden Glove champion of southern Illinois, and fought on many of the Labor Day celebration cards at the fairgrounds here in Harrisburg.

He was born in Saline county, in Eldorado, and has lived here most of his life, except for time spent in service in World War II.

Little Danger of Poisoning Dairy Cattle
With Sorgo or Sudan

URBANA—There's little danger of poisoning your dairy cattle by feeding them sorgo or Sudan
after it is completely dry or has gone through the ensiling process.
However, J. G. Cash, dairy specialist at the University of Illinois, suggests taking the following precaution before feeding these roughages to your entire herd:
When you think these feeds are ready, try them out on one of your least valuable animals for a few days. If they prove to be all right, you can give them to the rest of the herd.
With signs pointing to a bumper crop this year, on-farm storage will be increasingly valuable if the present spread between market price and government loan value increases as it might.

Broiler Chick Production Takes Spotlight

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Broiler
chicken production is taking the spotlight in the Illinois poultry industry.
The meat chicken for the table
of the consumer captured an important place on the program of a meeting of the Illinois Poultry Improvement Association's Southern District at Southern Illinois university here Jan. 12. More than 60 persons — farmers, poultry breeders, hatcherymen, feed dealers, and others concerned with the poultry industry — attended from southern and central Illinois counties.

Joseph Ewing, Federal Market
Reporting Service, Springfield, pointed out that there has been a gradual rise in the hatchery production of broiler chicks since 1933 with the sharpest rise coming in the past three years. The production of chicks for general farm flocks has been declining since World War II. Competition and the need for efficient poultry production to obtain profits has been responsible, he pointed out.

Interest ran high in a two-man panel discussion contrasting the merits of the single breed dual-purpose chicken and the specialized breeds developed either for meat or egg production.

Richard E. Shirack, representative of the Holtzapfel White Rocks Farms, Elida, Ohio, presented the case for the dual purpose chicken.
He contended such a chicken is profitable for both egg production and meat. He quoted figures to show the success of the Holtzapfel Farms in breeding White Rock chickens which maintain a high percentage of egg production as well as capturing high national ratings in economical production of meat as broilers through fast growth and good feed conversion.
Reports from 20,745 hens in more than 60 farm flocks of the Holtzapfel White Rocks during one week in December showed the average egg production running at nearly 68 percent of the number of hens. Average age of the chickens was eight and a half months.

Particular Purpose Breeds
Wayne Rogers, Ames, Iowa, maintained that different breeds
for laying and broiler production
each breed developed for the particular purpose—provide the most efficient operation. Rogers represents an organization developing inbred crosses of chickens either for broiler production or for egg production.

The poultry breeder, he said, is interested in feather color, body formation, egg production, growth rate, feed efficiency, early maturity, dressing percentage, hatchability of eggs, temperament, skin color, and disease resistance. In developing crosses the aim is to take breeds high in one or more of these and try to incorporate as many as possible in one chicken.

Charles Melzer, Nashville, state
vice president and southern district
chairman of the IPIA, presided
at the meeting. Scott Hinners, SIU poultryman, summarized some of the findings in two years of broiler production tests at SIU.

The Daily Register 25c a week

chinery not possible for the individual farmer.
2. Increasing development of technology induces farmers to specialize more in forestry and apply more labor in the woods. This includes better grading techniques, better utilization of machinery for increasing the output per manhour
and more knowledge of the efficient use of timber.

3. More educational services are available for the small woodland owner, increasing his awareness of problems and the need for improvements, and providing training for him and for timber operators in efficient harvesting and utilization methods.

Fluid Milk Consumption Increasing, But Area is Below State Average

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of five weekly articles based on Dr. Alex Reed's study, "Production and Utilization of Milk in Sixteen Southern Illinois Counties.")

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Consumption of fluid milk and cream is increasing as compared to the sum of other dairy products, but the per capita use in southern Illinois is lower than the state average, reports Dr. Alex Reed, Southern Illinois University Agriculture department dairy specialist, in his study, "Production and Utilization of Milk in Sixteen Southern Illinois Counties."

Reed surveyed fluid milk consumption in Carbondale and Murphysboro townships (Jackson county) in April, 1951, 1952 and 1953.
Between 1951 and 1953 the average daily per capita sales of fluid milk increased from 6 pints to 7 3/4 pints in Carbondale. In Murphysboro the increase went from 6 1/2 pints to 7 1/4. Daily sales increased more sharply between April, 1952, and April 1953 in Carbondale than in Murphysboro.
Reed offers two reasons: enactment of a Grade A milk ordinance
in Carbondale during the latter part of 1952, and the introduction of a store price differential of three cents on half gallons (over two quarts of milk).

Reasons for Low Consumption Comparatively low consumer income, lack of milk quality requirements, no more sales differential on milk, and poor merchandising are suggested by Reed as reasons for lower per capita fluid milk consumption in southern Illinois than in many other parts of the state. Studies have shown that milk consumption varies from .67
pints per day in low income families to .93 pints in higher income families.

A stable, adequate market for milk, assuring a fair price to the producer, is essential to a growing dairy industry. Reed points out this market is dependent on the ultimate use of the milk.

If there is no opportunity to sell milk within the limits of the area it must be moved out. Milk in paper containers may be transported successfully as much as 450 miles to market, Reed says. Industrial expansion and increased processing of milk into manufactured products offer other opportunities for developing a dairy industry.

Dairy Products Production
Illinois ranks high in producing manufactured dairy products.

However, the kinds of manufactured products are changing. In 1937 nearly 60 percent of the milk used in manufactured dairy products in the nation went into butter (nearly a third of the total milk production). By 1952 the figure was down to 21 percent, reflecting the decline in creamery butter consumption. Illinois ranked sixth among the states in manufacturing creamery butter in 1950. Jackson and Perry counties were the only ones in the southern 16 reporting butter manufacturing in 1949, producing 1,750,000 pounds. By 1951
the production had dropped to 1-000,000 pounds.

Cheese consumption is increasing in the nation, nearly doubling from four pounds per capita in 1933 to 7 1/2 pounds in 1950. The billion pounds of milk (10 percent of total production) in 1952. However, there is little cheese manufacturing in southern Illinois.

Consumption of condensed and evaporated milk had little importance in milk utilization until after 1925, but there has been a gradual increase from 10 pounds per capita annually in 1925 to 20 pounds in 1947. Since then the figure has dropped to 18 pounds. Illinois ranked seventh in evaporated milk production in 1950, manufacturing 150,000,000 pounds. Condensed milk production in the state was 27,000,000 pounds in 1951.

Ice Cream Production Up
Southern Illinois reported no
condensed milk manufacturing until after 1944. In 1949 more than 7,000,000 pounds of all kinds of your bill is?

By the way, do not neglect having a few electrical conveniences
for the wife while you are convincing all sorts of ways to use electric motors around the farm to make your own work easier.

We'll pass along this hint from Roth: Watch out if the lights dim
as you plug in a heavy wattage appliance such as an electric iron or heater, or if you blow fuses or trip the circuit breakers often. It's a warning that you're overloading
the wiring. You'll need heavier wires or additional circuits if you don't want to run the risk of a fire.

If you haven't gotten around to pruning the fruit trees yet, better do it. General principles to follow are: lower the tops of the tall trees, keep the tree from spreading out too far, cut off the branches that droop to the ground or those that grow closely parallel on top of other limbs, thin out the interior of the trees some in order that light and spray materials will get in easily, and trim only as little as is necessary. Always make a clean cut. No stubs, please.

Horticulturist Lowell Tucker at SIU says that Southern Illinois has four times as much land suited to growing fruit as actually is producing fruit.

Are you having any trouble with damp litter in the laying house
this winter? Condensation of moisture is the chief cause of it. Good ventilation will help cut it down.
It's best to ventilate with openings on the south or southeast, but don't get a draft on your hens.
Stirring the litter to permit air penetration will help.
Joe Sutton (he's the Mt. Vernon poultryman we told you about earlier who visited England last year)

mentioned a little system the English farmers have. Some are using aluminum quonset-type buildings (Joe said they had another name for them but I wouldn't know how to spell it even if I remembered
the name) for poultry houses.
Anyway, the English used straw litter in the poultry yard, he said
—just opposite to most southern Illinois farmers! They kept piling it in and the chickens kept scratching. Worked pretty well in the winter, too. Kept the hen houses warm and gave the chickens plenty of exercise as well as some green feed from sprouted grain which they nipped on as they scratched
under the thick layers of straw.

Resolve to do things around your farm on time in 1954 instead of putting them off until a rainy day,
suggests a University of Illinois
livestock specialist.

THE STORY: Apparently mistaken for another man in the Arizona town of Bella Loma, Grete Marratt, an escaped convict, is wounded by an unseen gunman. When he regains consciousness, he finds himself bandaged and made comfortable in a house. The good Samaritan also had left a gun by his side. Hearing someone coming, Marratt waits, pistol in hand.

III

The person who opened the door had his left arm piled with groceries. He looked to be crowding 60; a tall, grizzled man in a black alpaca with a black San An tugged low above eyes that flicked toward the couch, fanned outward a little and came swiveling around until they picked up Marratt.

He gave no evidence of being disconcerted. "Expect you're feeling some better," he commented, booting the door shut and fetching his parcels on over to the table. "How's the appetite?"

"Suppose we talk about you." "Pretty dull subject." The tall man offered a fleeting smile. "You can put that gun down, Luke; I won't bite you."

Marratt said: "Start talking!" The tall man eyed him a moment longer. But when the hammer clicked back under Marratt's thumb he shrugged and said dryly, "All right. What about?"

"About how we got hooked up with each other."

"No mystery about that. I picked you out of the slop of the road during the storm we had here the other night. Been doing the best I can to take care of you."

"For a price, of course," Marratt's lips turned bitter.

"Anger darkened the other's cheeks. Then he said coldly to Marratt, 'I guess you haven't changed much, Usher.'"

"We'll speak of that later. Right now I want to know who you are, what's your angle and why you stuck me in this empty house."

All right, I'm Doc Frailey, as you know. Night before last I found you lying unconscious outside the gate. I fetched you here because it was handy, because you happen to own it and because I wasn't at all sure you'd be wanting folks to know you'd come back after 15 years."

Marratt said, fishing: "Run out on a bill, did I?"

"Some might be tempted to put it that way."

They considered each other for a couple of moments. Frailey said scornfully, "How long has this amnesia been bothering you?" Marratt shook his head.

"Have you forgotten telling round how you were going to put a window through Clem Ryerson's skull?"

"So I killed this big mogul and dug for the tules, eh?"

"You never went near him — never even waited for your old man's funeral!"

Marratt's look turned thoughtful. "You know," he said, "Frailey, you could be mistaken."

"You asked and I told you."

"How'd you get onto me?"

"It wasn't quick," Frailey sighed. "Knew I'd seen you before but it was finding you there, not 40 yards from this house, that finally put my wheels to churning. Time I'd got you inside and scraped off some of the muck I was sure. The picture clinched it."

Marratt's eyes narrowed. "Picture?"

"Old Jake's. Above the couch. You can't miss the resemblance."

Marratt put aside the gun. He scrubbed a hand across his eyes. "How bad's this hole in my side?"

"Cracked rib. You'll get over it."

"Why do you reckon I've come back?"

The tall man looked at him sharply, then he glanced at his watch and put it back in his pocket.

"I don't know—I don't want to know. I don't want any part in it."

"Who was Ryerson? Why did I threaten to kill him?"

The doc studied him quite awhile. "I'd rather you found those things out from someone else."

"I've already been shot once! If you didn't think I was in danger why'd you leave me that gun?"

"The gun was here. It belonged to your father."

Marratt, eying it, said slowly, "It's been well taken care of."

Frailey shook his head and waved a hand at the wall. "It was hanging in that gun belt. I took it apart. I cleaned it and oiled it."

He said on an irritable gust of breath: "Don't ask me why—I just did, that's all!"

A meager smile tugged the corners of Marratt's mouth. "Why hide your light under a bushel, Doc? It was a generous impulse; particularly in a man who thinks as poorly of me as you do."

"I wasn't thinking about you!"

"You must have thought a good deal of Jake Usher then. Did Ryerson kill him?"

Frailey opened his mouth, changed his mind and strode doorward. But halfway there he spun back. "All right, I'll tell you. When you were tanked up, you claimed Clem Ryerson killed Jake. You were in the Red Horse Bar, yowling what you would do to him. But when they got you sober enough to know wild honey from cow hide you got right into a saddle and commenced laying tracks for the border."

Marratt sighed. "You had folks on your side up till then. Frailey grumbled. "Now the boot's on the other foot and you're a fool twice over."

Social and Personal Items

Hems, Zippers, Egg Yolk Home Bureau Subjects

The Dorris Heights Home Bureau unit met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leo Fowler with ten members and one visitor, Mrs. Herman Conover, present.

The major lesson, "Hems and Zippers," was given by the home adviser, Mary Harper, and the minor topic on "Storing Egg Yolks" was by Mrs. Barney Ashe.

On roll call, those present answered by naming crafts they were most interested in. Making lamp shades and basket weaving proved most popular.

Following the program the hostess served homemade cake and coffee.

The February meeting will be Feb. 25 at 7 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ray Caldwell. The lesson on "Paints for Walls and Floors" will be given by two local leaders, Mrs. Carl Thompson and Mrs. Charles Kiehlhorn. The minor topic, "Pictures in the Home," will be by Mrs. Leo Fowler. All members are urged to attend and visitors are invited.

Mrs. Glen Wallace Entertains Candlelight Home Bureau Unit

The Candlelight Home Bureau unit met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Glen Wallace with 20 members and two visitors present. The visitors, Mrs. Martha Hansen and Mrs. Barbara McDowell, both joined the unit during the meeting.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Wm. Keen. The unit will have a candy sale on the square on Thursday, Feb. 11.

The minor lesson was given by Mrs. Mary Dora McGowan on the use and storage of egg yolks. Mrs. Mary Harper, home adviser, gave an interesting demonstration on "Hems and Zippers."

Mrs. Lucyella Foster was in charge of entertainment and Mrs. Wallace was assisted as hostess by Mrs. McGowan, Mrs. Florence Slightom and Mrs. Margaret Jean Lamkin in serving delicious refreshments.

Confere Club Holds First Meeting Of New Year

The Confere Club held its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Bolen Perkins, 111 Jackson street, Friday afternoon.

The group made plans and secured places for the coming meetings. The annual Christmas dinner, it was decided, will be held at the home of Mrs. H. E. Jones.

The following members were present: Mrs. H. H. Borden, Mrs. J. W. F. Davis, Mrs. H. N. Finney, Mrs. Naomi Shain, Mrs. H. E. Jones, Mrs. Anna Williams, Mrs. Luther Prout, Mrs. Clyde Harding, Mrs. George Lindemuth and Mrs. Bolen Perkins.

J. D. Douglas returned home yesterday from the Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Mo., where he had been a medical patient since Jan. 23. He has made some improvement.

Mrs. Vera Melton of Eldorado, employed at Lincoln State school, who was injured in a fall on ice covered sidewalk there Tuesday, is at home for a period of convalescence. She was released from the Lincoln hospital Friday afternoon and expects to be in Eldorado for a week, before returning to her employment.

Baptist Brotherhood Holds Chili Supper, Program for Church

Tuesday night the Brotherhood of the Carrier Mills Baptist church held its annual chili supper and program for the entire church. The service this year was in honor of Fred H. Wasson who for the second year has been asked to contribute an article to the Southern Baptist Brotherhood Journal. His article, published in the Journal for January, February and March, is entitled Church Loyalty. This article is one of those writings that gets right to the bottom of church difficulties.

Rev. Tellis Young, pastor of the Dorrisville Baptist church, spoke on the subject of church loyalty and after the program the chili supper was held in the basement of the church in the modern kitchen. Mr. Wasson's birthday was remembered Jan. 30 and the birthday of the Brotherhood president, Raymond Allen, was remembered on the program.

One of the songs used during the evening was written by one of the men, Harry McAtee, especially for the occasion.

Out of town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Reed of Pankeyville, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burnett and Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Lacy of Harrisburg. The Lacs and Mr. Burnett furnished several special songs. Other special songs were by Rex Allen, Bess Wiley, Bess McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. George Hutson and Alton Parton. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Parton were out of town visitors.

Comfort Rebekah Lodge No. 48 Has Installation of Officers

Following the regular meeting of Comfort Rebekah Lodge No. 48 of Carrier Mills, new officers for the coming year were installed.

Preceding the installation ceremony, a piano solo was presented by Brenda Jo McNew. A welcome was extended to everyone present by the outgoing noble grand, Mrs. Gladys Pankey. Mrs. Leah Travelstead was flag bearer and the tribute to the flag was given by Mrs. Grace Henson. The National Anthem was sung by the audience.

The lodge hall was decorated with potted plants and the ceremony was by candlelight.

Installing officers were Oscar Kingery, district deputy president; Thelma O'Neal, deputy marshal; Geneva Morris, deputy warden; Addie Miller, deputy secretary; Jane Pankey, deputy financial secretary; Grace Henson, deputy treasurer; Carrie Wasson, deputy musician; Dollie Davis, deputy chaplain; Etha B. Campbell, deputy inside guardian; and Blanche Whitney, deputy outside guardian.

The escorts for the evening were Helen Gibson, Freda Moake, Charlene Sandage, and Pauline Thornton.

The elected officers were Mrs. Kathleen McNew, noble grand; Mrs. Genevieve Jamerson, vice-grand; Mrs. Thelma O'Neal, recording secretary; Mrs. Ella Golden, financial secretary; Mrs. Golden Abney, treasurer.

Mrs. Lucille Harper sang, "I Would Be True" after which Mrs. Treva Evans entered carrying a white Bible. She was escorted by Norma Figg, Barbara Brandon, Charlene Sandage and Zada Martin who carried lighted candles.

After the noble grand was installed, she was presented with a lovely orchid corsage.

After the officers were installed, Mrs. Lucille Harper sang, "Crying in the Chapel."

The noble grand was presented a bouquet of red roses and a gift from her daughter and gifts from the family and friends.

The soloist sang "Our Best To You" to the vice-grand who was presented with a bouquet of red roses and a gift from her daughter. She also received gifts from her family and friends. The soloist sang "At The End of A Perfect Year."

A reading was given by Oscar Kingery, and the benediction was given by Dollie Davis. The song, "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You" was sung by the audience at the end of the meeting.

From a white covered table decorated with yellow mums refreshments of ginger bread, topped with whipped cream, hot coffee and spiced tea were served along with favors of green candy decorated with three pink links across the center.

During the gold rush of the 1890s, a ten-pound beefsteak sold for $48 a pound in Circle, Alaska.

In Loving Memory Of GLENOLYN EDWARDS
whose passing was one year ago Jan. 30.
Our lips cannot tell how we miss her.
Our hearts cannot tell what to say.
God alone knows how we miss her.
In a home that is lonesome today.
Loving and kind in all her ways.
Upright and just to the end of her days.
Sincere and true in her heart and mind.
Beautiful memories she left behind.
Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Edwards and Sisters. *180-1

In Memory Of
our daughter and sister MRS. ROSE AGNES STIFF
who passed away 7 years ago today.
Loving and kind in all her ways.
Sincere and true in heart and mind.
A beautiful memory she left behind.
With a heart purer than gold.
And to those who knew her and loved her.
Her memory shall never grow old.
Memories are treasures no one can steal.
Death is a heartache nothing can heal.
Some may forget you now you are gone.
But we shall remember no matter how long.
The call was short, the shock severe.
To part with one we love so dear.
God took her home; it was His will.
But in our hearts she liveth still.
Loved and always remembered.
Dad and Sister, Margaret Head. 180-1

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Pfc. Charles O. Campbell who was killed in action in Italy, Jan. 31, 1944.
From this world of pain and sorrow,
To the land of peace and rest,
God has taken you, dear loved one,
Where you have found eternal rest.
Sadly missed by Father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell, Brothers and Sisters. *180-1

Allen Dulles Warns Of Danger from 'Soft Thinkers'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allen W. Dulles, director of "hush-hush" Central Intelligence Agency, said Friday that neutrals and "soft thinkers" are a greater danger than avowed Communists.

He said Soviet Russia spends about two billion dollars a year on "front" organizations and allied activities which conceal the real purpose of the Communist conspiracy.

"They should not be allowed to get away with this hoax and deception any longer," he said. Addressing a women's forum on national security, Dulles stressed the amount of time and money the Russians are willing to put into "front" organizations as "a softening process" to prepare for the day they can take over.

"Today it is not the open Communist, the admitted follower of Marx and Lenin, who is likely to trip us up," he said. "It is the neutralist, the soft thinkers about agrarian reforms, those who merely decry the methods but are blind to the aim of international Communism."

Douglas Again Asks A-Power Plant In Southern Illinois

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) today renewed a request that the Atomic Energy Commission build its new atomic power reactor in southern Illinois.

The AEC has said it may build the plant at any of three sites—near Paducah, Ky.; Oak Ridge, Tenn.; and Portsmouth, Ohio.

Douglas made public a letter to the AEC urging that the area east and south of St. Louis be considered.

He said unemployment is high in the area now because coal mines on which it has depended are being worked out. Other favorable factors, Douglas said, are absence of any great population centers; ample future markets for reactor's power output; well-developed rail facilities and plentiful water supplies.

Liquified Petroleum Gas Ass'n to Sponsor School Of Instruction Feb. 2

The Liquified Petroleum Gas association is sponsoring a school of instruction in Harrisburg the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 2.

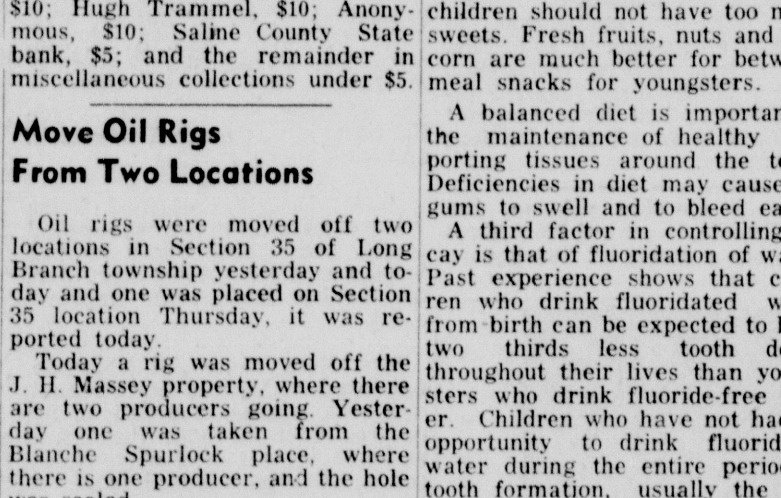

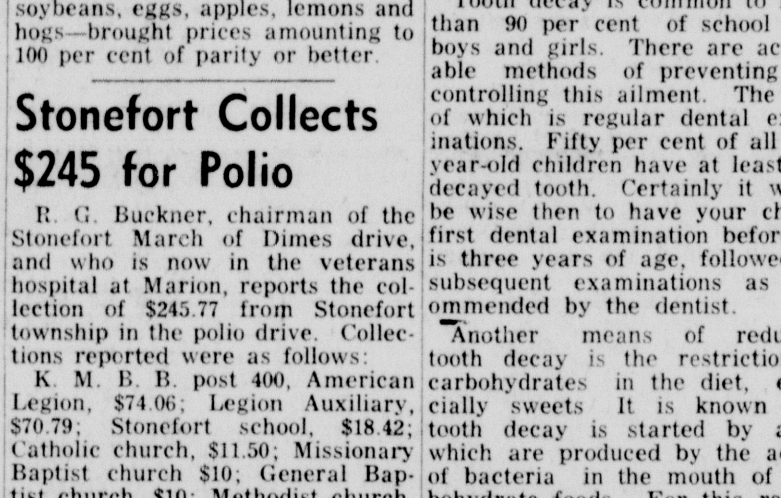

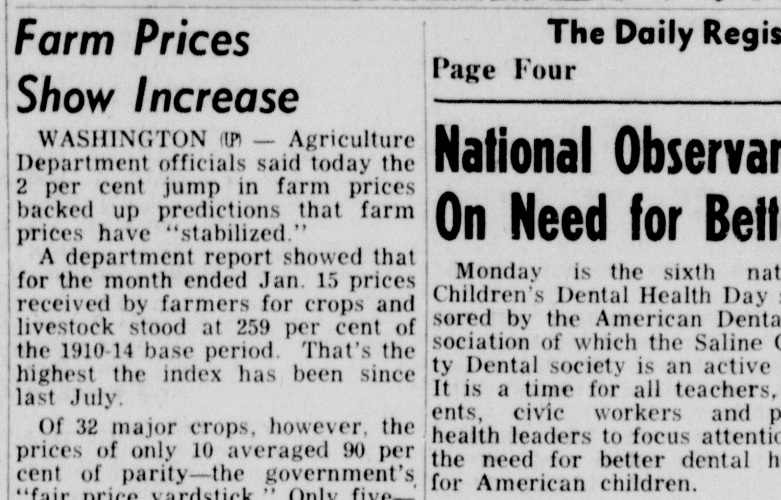

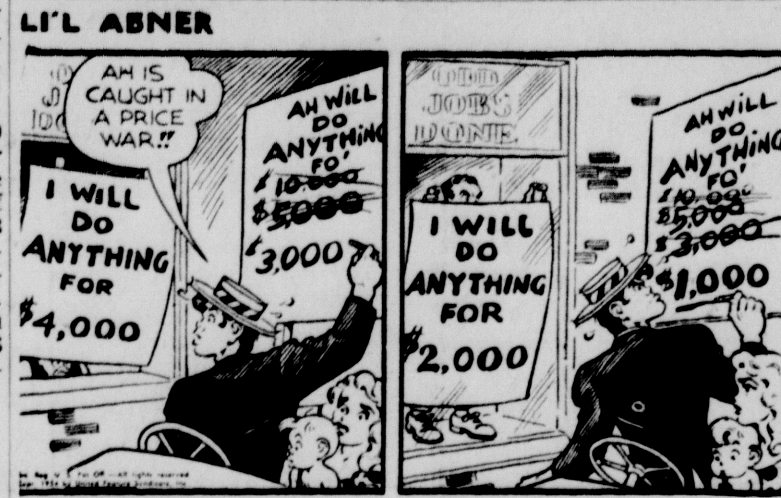

At this meeting an expert will give instruction on proper venting of appliances, especially heating units of any kind.

The school will be held at Wesley center and slides will be shown which depict proper and improper installation methods and the hazards of improper installation.

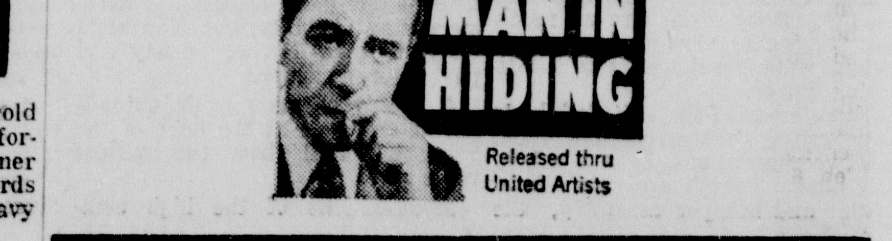

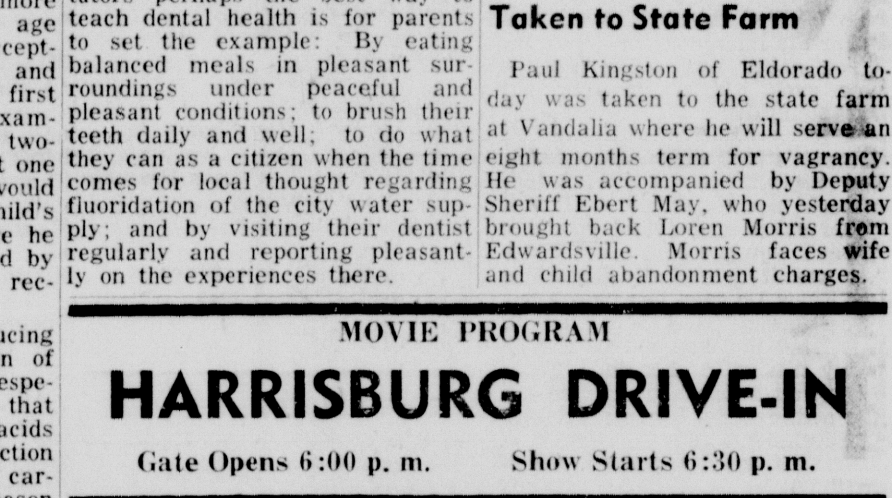

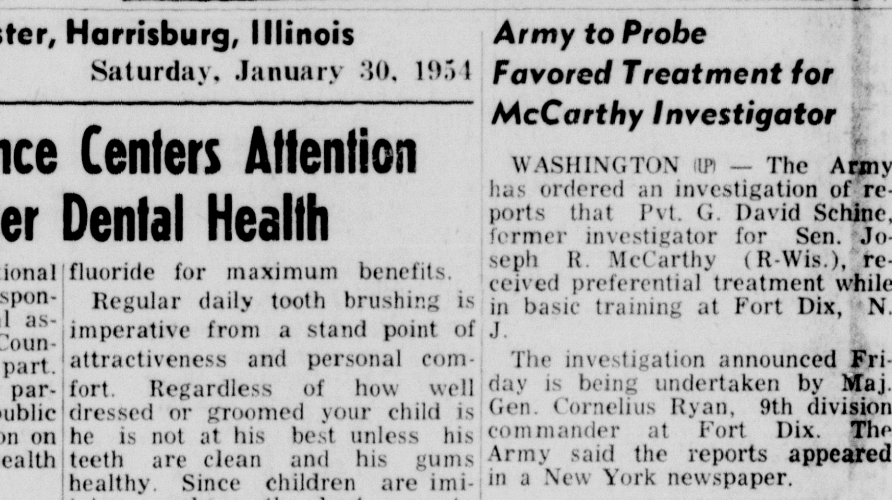

All persons who deal in liquified petroleum and those who make appliance installations in Saline county and adjacent area are invited to attend this free school of instruction.

The association is holding schools at Nashville, Fairfield, Marysboro, Vandalia and Harrisburg in the southern third of the state.

Farm Prices Show Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Department officials said today the 2 per cent jump in farm prices backed up predictions that farm prices have "stabilized."

A department report showed that for the month ended Jan. 15 prices received by farmers for crops and livestock stood at 259 per cent of the 1910-14 base period. That's the highest the index has been since last July.

Of 32 major crops, however, the prices of only 10 averaged 90 per cent of parity—the government's "fair price yardstick." Only five—soybeans, eggs, apples, lemons and hogs—brought prices amounting to 100 per cent of parity or better.

Stonefort Collects $245 for Polio

R. G. Buckner, chairman of the Stonefort March of Dimes drive, and who is now in the veterans hospital at Marion, reports the collection of $245.77 from Stonefort township in the polio drive.

Contributions reported were as follows: K. M. B. post 400, American Legion, $74.00; Legion Auxiliary, $70.79; Stonefort school, $18.42; Catholic church, $11.50; Missionary Baptist church, $10; General Baptist church, $10; Methodist church, $10; Hugh Trammel, $10; Anonymous, $10; Saline County State bank, $5; and the remainder in miscellaneous collections under $5.

Move Oil Rigs From Two Locations

Oil rigs were moved off two locations in Section 35 of Long Branch township yesterday and today and one was placed on Section 35 location Thursday, it was reported today.

Today a rig was moved off the J. H. Massey property, where there are two producers going. Yesterday one was taken from the Blanche Spurlock place, where there is one producer, and the hole was sealed.

The rig went on the Ben Davis farm Thursday. It is near the Massey No. 2 producer.

11-Day-Old Cabinet Overthrown in Italy

ROME (AP)—The 11-day-old cabinet of Premier Amintore Fanfani was overthrown in the Chamber of Deputies today and Italy was plunged deeper into its months-long political crisis.

The confidence vote which Fanfani sought was refused him by an official count of 303-260, with 12 members abstaining.

National Observance Centers Attention On Need for Better Dental Health

Monday is the sixth national Children's Dental Health Day sponsored by the American Dental Association of which the Saline County Dental society is an active part. It is a time for all teachers, parents, civic workers and public health leaders to focus attention on the need for better dental health for American children.

Tooth decay is common to more than 90 per cent of school age boys and girls. There are acceptable methods of preventing and controlling this ailment. The first of which is regular dental examinations. Fifty per cent of all two-year-old children have at least one decayed tooth. Certainly it would be wise then to have your child's first dental examination before he is three years of age, followed by subsequent examinations as recommended by the dentist.

Another means of reducing tooth decay is the restriction of carbohydrates in the diet, especially sweets. It is known that tooth decay is started by acids which are produced by the action of bacteria in the mouth of carbohydrate foods. For this reason children should not have too many sweets. Fresh fruits, nuts and popcorn are much better for between-meal snacks for youngsters.

A balanced diet is important to the maintenance of healthy supporting tissues around the teeth. Deficiencies in diet may cause the gums to swell and to bleed easily.

A third factor in controlling decay is that of fluoridation of water. Past experience shows that children who drink fluoridated water from birth can be expected to have two thirds less tooth decay throughout their lives than youngsters who drink fluoride-free water. Children who have not had an opportunity to drink fluoridated water during the entire period of tooth formation, usually the first eight years of life, must depend upon topical application of sodium

Army to Probe Favored Treatment for McCarthy Investigator

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has ordered an investigation of reports that Pvt. G. David Schine, former investigator for Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), received preferential treatment while in basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

The investigation announced Friday is being undertaken by Maj. Gen. Cornelius Ryan, 9th division commander at Fort Dix. The Army said the reports appeared in a New York newspaper.

Mt. Vernon, Benton Slow Cage Pace; Rams Win, 15-13; Rock Island Trips Moline

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Rock Island registered the top surprise in Illinois prep basketball Friday night by upsetting Moline, second-ranked club in the state, 53-46.

Moline had won 13 and lost two this season, and one of its victories was over La Grange, a club that hasn't lost another game in two years. Moline now has lost two in a row, having dropped a game to Elgin last weekend.

Rock Island, with a 7-3 won-lost record going into the game, nevertheless had shown strength by beating Rockford West and holding Moline to a three-point win in their first meeting.

Other Friday night winners included La Grange, Quincy, Mount Vernon, Litchfield, Rockford East, Rockford West, Peoria Woodruff, Cicero Morton, Wood River, Paris, Barrington, and Mount Carmel.

Mount Vernon and Benton turned the scoring pace back 30 years with the Rams grabbing a 15-13 ball control duel. It was Mount Vernon's 15th win against two losses.

La Grange ran its season skinn to 13-1 by trampling Arlington Heights 93-53. The Lions may encounter stiffer going tonight against Elgin, which eked by Aurora East 52-50.

Quincy, the state's fourth-ranked quintet, found Springfield tough for three quarters but then ran away to a 59-45 victory. Blue Devil center Tom Payne sunk 22 points.

Stonefort Scouts Defeat Tunnel Hill

The Stonefort Scouts, independent ball club, coached by Clarence Henshaw, defeated Tunnel Hill Thursday night, 107-73. Evans with 32 points was high scorer for the Scouts. Taylor with 29 points led the losers.

The Scouts will travel to Dale, Ill., Feb. 4 to play a benefit game. The team will also play a benefit game at New Burnside on Feb. 6.

Anyone desiring games with this team contact Clarence Henshaw, Stonefort.

Bull Dogs, Galatia Meet in Consolation Of County Tournament

Tournament Box Scores

Carrier Mills beat Galatia, 53 to 49, and Eldorado took Harrisburg into camp, 54 to 47, to throw Galatia and Harrisburg into the battle for third place, which will start at 7 p. m. preceding the championship affair.

A near-capacity crowd was on hand at the big gym to see the hotly contested games, which were close enough to hold the fans in their seats all the way.

Carrier Mills had defeated Galatia by a single point in an earlier contest and won again. Harrisburg held a one-point victory over Eldorado but could not repeat last night. However, the locals, although losing, racked up the largest number of field goals of any team last night—21.

Drawings Before Games

The games were played following drawings held at 6:30 to determine which team would play which. The captains of the four teams met in the center of the floor with HTHS Principal Raymond L. Foster and Jim McKee, HTHS athletic business manager, and drew numbers from a box. With No. 1 and No. 2 to play the first game and No. 3 and No. 4 to meet in the second. Capt. Bob Orto of Galatia drew No. 1, Capt. Ron Culbreth of Carrier Mills drew No. 2, Capt. Rex Long of Eldorado drew No. 3 and Acting Capt. Ronnie Riegel of Harrisburg drew No. 4.

Carrier Mills, showing better rebounding at the outset with Jim Miller showing the way in this department, ran up a 9 to 1 lead on Galatia before the Bearcats started rolling. Then Galatia, putting forth a nice press, started gaining and pulled to within two points, 14-12, at the end of the first quarter.

Fowler, Rollins Foul Out
The Wildcats, however, started rolling again in the second period and pulled out ahead, 26-17, then held margins ranging from three to eight points the rest of the frame. The half ended with Carrier Mills leading 32-26.

Galatia outscored the Wildcats, 13-8, in the third period, and went into a 36-36 tie with four minutes, 20 seconds to go in the frame, which ended with Carrier Mills ahead, 40-39.

With but a half minute gone in the last period Oliver Rollins, the big Carrier Mills wheelhorse in under-the-basket play, fouled out and Galatia took a short lead. Then, three minutes later out went the Bearcats' Jack Fowler. The teams played nip-and-tuck with the score tied at 47-47 with only two minutes left, but Jim Reeder hit for a field goal and two free throws and Lowell Stricklin made good two free throws to make the final count 53-49.

Uphurch Top Scorer
The Harrisburg-Eldorado game wasn't quite so close, but almost, as the first one. The first quarter ended 13-13 as the count was tied four times during the period. Next quarter, with Paul Mackovjak and Keith Whittier leading the way, pulled out to a 25-20 halftime margin.

The locals narrowed the gap a bit the third frame as Richard Gideumb hit three and Dave Anglin hit for two from 'way out, but they just couldn't get up the steam to get any closer the last period.

Eldorado put up a zone defense against Harrisburg and most of the local shooting was from 20 to 30 feet out. Only Dave Harrison, who with Gideumb tied for local scoring honors, could get good shots away from close distance.

Big scorer of the evening was Galatia's scintillating center, Joe Upchurch. The big boy made 21 points. Eldorado's Mackovjak, with 18, was next, and the Eagles' Ron McRoy, with 17, was third best the first night. Ron Culbreth of Carrier Mills, with 15, led his team to victory.

MIDGET CONFERENCE TOURNAMENT winners were presented trophies following the championship game of the meet Thursday night. The tournament was held at Raleigh and trophies were awarded the first three finishers, with Muddy winning first place, Dorrisville second and Raleigh third. Team captains accepted the trophies for their respective teams from Raleigh cheer leaders. Team captains, left to right, Lindell Prather, Raleigh; Donald Trail, Dorrisville and Ray Hassett, Muddy. The cheer leaders are Maxine Downey, Ramonna Gaddis and Mary Ann Ingram. (Register Staff Photo)

Brookport Defeats Ridgway, 63 to 50

Brookport's Bull Dogs broke away from Ridgway in the final quarter last night to hand the Eagles a 63-50 defeat on the Ridgway floor.

Ridgway lost key men in the last eight minutes via the personal foul route. The Eagles trailed by a single point, 39-38, when the last period opened.

Brookport led 13-7 at the quarter and 23-19 at the intermission.

RIDGWAY — Hise 22, Sturgill 11, Barter 3, D. Drone 3, L. Drone 5, Downen 5, Abel 1. BROOKPORT — Rush 18, Clark 9, Davis 14, Statham 4, Brock 5, Austin 13.

Shawneetown Edges Pope Co. In Overtime

Senior Jane Boyd Young is Crowned Basketball Queen

Shawneetown's Indians took to the warpath in the final half last night to nose out Pope Co. high's invading Pirates, 62-58, in a thrilling overtime game played before a capacity crowd.

As an added attraction, the Shawneetown high school presented its annual basketball queen-crowning ceremony between the preliminary and main event. Senior Jane Boyd Young was named queen by members of the team and was crowned by Dan Duff.

Serving as her attendants in the pretty coronation ceremonies were Barbara Clevenger and Barbara Shook, seniors. Sherrill Davis, junior, Essie Biggerstaff, sophomore, and Margie Hise, freshman. A girls' chorus sang two songs and also provided a candlelit corridor for the queen and attendant's entry march. Vita Jean Wilhite was crown bearer and Paul Lee Genisio, basketball bearer. Danny Gunzel served as emcee. The program was under the direction of Miss Elaine Hood.

Early Lead Cancelled

Pope Co. got off to a flying start against the host aggregation and appeared on the verge of a runaway in the second period. The Indians began an uprising late in the second quarter that carried through the final half—and to ultimate victory.

Ahead 21-14 at the quarter, the Pirates extended their advantage to 28-18 at one time in the second period. Shawneetown cut the lead to a mere five points by halftime.

Shortly after the intermission, they knotted the score at 37-all, but Pope Co. pulled away once more.

The Indians trailed 44-45 at the end of the third but grabbed a three-point lead early in the fourth. At one point in the last two minutes Shawneetown held another three-point advantage. This was erased by Pope Co. in the fading seconds, and the game ended in a 58-58 deadlock.

In the extra session, Joyner and Newsom connected for the home team with Pope Co. failing to score on any of its seven shots in the hoop.

SHAWNEETOWN — Nolen 19, Spottsville 14, Willis 6, Newsom 18, Joyner 5, Drone 0, Duff 0, Shell 0, Gunzel 0. POPE CO. — Holland 8, Shumaker 20, Roper 15, Davis 0, Burgess 10, Harp 5, B. Fritch 0.

Norris City Trounces Equality

Norris City trounced invading Equality, 69-49, last night, breaking away from the Cardinals after a close first quarter.

The host team led at every stop. Scores were 20-17, 40-26 and 60-33. Equality held the edge briefly in the initial period.

The Cards outscored their conquerors at the charity line but were no match for them in the field.

EQUALITY — Butler 6, Barnett 9, Glover 2, Woolley 13, Crayne 9, Kaufmann 10. NORRIS CITY — Moye 16, Mills 4, Williams 6, Bruce 15, McCormick 14, Gideumb 7, Lydick 2, Sawyer 3, Brown 2.

At all times and in all ages the Church has been a strong and mighty battle station against sin and moral decay. Through its arches and apses and naves has constantly rung the battle cry of soldiers of the cross. On its altar has always been found the greatest arsenal of sacred ammunition ever entrusted to any race or to any people—the Holy Bible. The banner of righteousness has flown steadily from the fixed redoubts of quaint and quiet community churches and impressive city edifices alike. The torch of truth and salvation has been carried with zeal to dismal outposts in distant and strange lands by self-effacing vanguards. The Church's stirring hymns, its reverent litany, its jeweled creed, its holy festivals—all have been powerful weapons in the hands of purposeful men determined to see that right makes might. From its pulpit parapets have resounded continual and courageous challenges to the forces of evil. Truly, the Church today is a mighty fortress in the defense of decency.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
The late W. W. White once analyzed the Gospel of John and laid much stress on the witness of the Master's mighty works.
The miracles in the Gospel are numerous and significant. There is the miracle of the turning of water into wine at the marriage in Cana. Again visiting Cana, Jesus heals a nobleman's sick son at Capernaum (John 4:46-54).
In Jerusalem, at the pool of Bethesda, He cures an infirm man, and because it was on the Sabbath incurs the intense hostility of certain Jews. Then comes the miracle of the feeding of the 5000.
There is also the miracle of Jesus
coming to the disciples, walking on the sea (John 6).
In Chapter 9 is the story of the restoration of sight of the man
born blind.
The crowning of the miracles is the raising of Lazarus from the dead.
The testimony of these mighty works will vary in value according to one's attitude toward miracles
in general.
For some the wonder-working aspect of Jesus seems larger than the spiritual significance of Jesus and His teaching.
For others the miracles are evidence of a wonderful life in which the supreme importance was the teaching and the life-giving power that brought new life, not to the body, but to the soul.
Jesus Himself disparaged the materialistic aspect of the miracles. To those who thronged about Him after the feeding of the 5000 He said: "Ye seek me,
not because ye saw the miracles,
but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled" (John 6:26).
The late Dr. Lloyd Douglas, whose fame since his lamented
death has increased even beyond that of his lifetime because of his notable book, "The Robe," once wrote a book under the title,
"Those Disturbing Miracles."
I don't know how much his book
may have answered the questions
in any minds that were disturbed,
but I recall my answer to a young woman in one of my congregations,
who was greatly disturbed.
I don't know what was the source of her doubts, but her Christian faith was shaken by wondering whether the miracles attributed to Jesus were to be thought of as like the legendary stories of miraculous things attributed to many other teachers and saints.
I did not try to argue the matter with her. If we could explain miracles they would no longer be miraculous, and there is no
"proof" in a scientific sense. It is a matter of belief or faith.
What I suggested to her was that she should forget about the miracles for the time being and concentrate upon all concerning Jesus and the New Testament that involved only the challenge to moral and spiritual faith.
I told her to concentrate on the Sermon of the Mount, the Parables,
I Corinthians 13, and the whole teaching of Jesus as contained in His own words, and in the interpretations of those who knew Him best.

I suggested that then she might be in a position to decide about the miracles. If men once believed in the Christ because of the miracles, I believe that today they believe in the miracles because of Christ.
